A Meta-analysis of the Relationship between Pretend Play and Cognitive Development

Abstrak:

This study was a meta-analysis of the relationship between pretend play and cognitive development. Integrating of primary studies from 9 researchers or journal articles. The result indicated that $\hat{\rho} = 0.584$; both the 0.097 credibility and 0.657 confidence interval 95%, so the hypothesis of this study was correlation between pretend play and cognitive development is received.

Keyword:

meta-analysis, pretend play, cognitive development