Abstrak:

Social stratification is a concept that can be useful in analyzing both society and state system. In order to have a useful analysis, however, it needs a proper procedure, which allows it to be applied in various targets. By so doing, the result of analysis could be useful for either a community or those who wish to be agent of social, economical, political, and even cultural change.

Keyword:

systemic analysis, social stratification, community